DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

Group I, claim(s) 19 through 22, 29, 31, 33 and 35, drawn to a method of fullerene separation comprising the steps of bringing a fullerene mixture with amine A and dissociating the complex containing the specific fullerene to obtain a specific fullerene.

Group II, claim(s) 23 through 28, 30, 32, 34 and 36 drawn to a method of fullerene separation comprising a process of removing higher fullerene in amine B, treating the solution containing C60 and C70 fullerenes by amine C, dissociating and separating to obtain C70 and higher fullerenes.

Group III, claim(s) 37 through 39 drawn to a complex comprising a fullerene and an amine having an amidine structure.

PCT: Lack of Unity

1. The inventions listed as Groups I-III do not relate to a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1 because, under PCT Rule 13.2, they lack the same or corresponding special technical features for the following reasons: the special technical feature which is referred to Annex B of Appendix A1 of the MPEP (Administrative Instructions under the PCT, "Unity of Invention"). The express "special technical features" is defined as meaning those technical features that define a contribution which each of the inventions, considered as a whole, makes over the prior art."(Rule 13.2).

Unity exists only when there is a technical relationship among the claimed inventions involving one or more of the same or corresponding claimed special technical features. In this case, the technical feature shared by each invention is a composition comprising fullerene.

The question of unity of invention has been reconsidered retroactively by the examiner in view of the search performed; a review of US Patent 5,904,852 (Tour et al, May 18, 1999); Process for Purifying Fullerenes) and JP 02003160318 A (Takehara et al, June 3, 2003; Apparatus and Method for Producing Fullerene) make clear that the inventions of the groups I-III lack the same or corresponding special technical feature because the cited reference(s) appear to demonstrate that the claimed technical feature does not define a contribution which each of the inventions, considered as a whole, makes over the prior art. Accordingly, the prior art of the record supports restriction of the claimed subject matter in to the groups as mentioned immediately above.

1. A telephone call was made to Attorney Steve Adrian (202 822 1104) on 09/16/2008 to request an oral election to the above restriction requirement, but did not result in an election being made. Attorney wanted the restrictions in writing.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include (i) an election of a species or invention to be examined even though the requirement may be traversed (37 CFR 1.143) and (ii) identification of the claims encompassing the elected invention.

The election of an invention or species may be made with or without traverse. To preserve a right to petition, the election must be made with traverse. If the reply does not distinctly and specifically point out supposed errors in the restriction requirement, the election shall be treated as an election without traverse.

2. The examiner has required restriction between product and process claims. Where applicant elects claims directed to the product, and the product claims are subsequently found allowable, withdrawn process claims that depend from or otherwise require all the limitations of the allowable product claim will be considered for rejoinder. All claims directed to a nonelected process invention must require all the limitations of an allowable product claim for that process invention to be rejoined.

In the event of rejoinder, the requirement for restriction between the product claims and the rejoined process claims will be withdrawn, and the rejoined process claims will be fully examined for patentability in accordance with 37 CFR 1.104. Thus, to be allowable, the rejoined claims must meet all criteria for patentability including the requirements of 35 U.S.C. 101, 102, 103 and 112. Until all claims to the elected product are found allowable, an otherwise proper restriction requirement between product claims and process claims may be maintained. Withdrawn process claims that are not commensurate in scope with an allowable product claim will not be rejoined. See MPEP § 821.04(b). Additionally, in order to retain the right to rejoinder in accordance with the above policy, applicant is advised that the process claims should be amended during prosecution to require the limitations of the product claims. Failure to do so may result in a loss of the right to rejoinder. Further, note that the prohibition against double patenting rejections of 35 U.S.C. 121 does not apply where the restriction requirement is withdrawn by the examiner before the patent issues. See MPEP § 804.01.
